Must-know

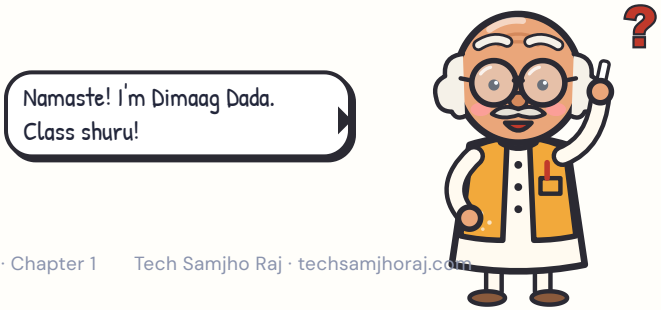

Chapter 1

Seating Arrangement

Every bank and SSC paper has a seating set. Draw it once, answer five questions free.

In this chapter

- ✓ Rows: north, south and mixed facing
- ✓ Round tables facing in, out or both
- ✓ Two rows facing each other
- ✓ Which clue to place first, and the 3 traps

Dada's class story

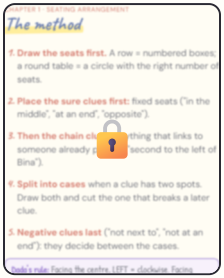

Dimaag Dada's tuition class has one bench and five restless students. Every morning they fight over seats, and every morning Dada settles it with clues: "Esha in the middle. Aman, leave one seat and then Bina..." By the time the chai arrives, everyone is seated and nobody is angry. That is all a seating puzzle is: a few people, a few seats, and clues you place one by one, the surest first. Exams add twists: people facing different ways, a round table, two rows. But the habit stays the same. Never solve it in your head. Draw the seats, place the sure clue, and let the paper think for you.

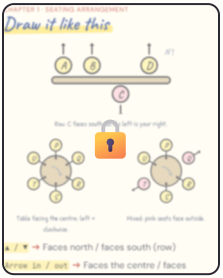

Remember: Every bank and SSC paper has a seating set. Draw it once, answer five questions free.

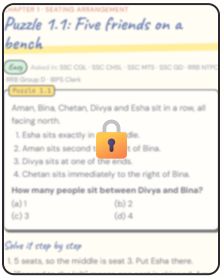

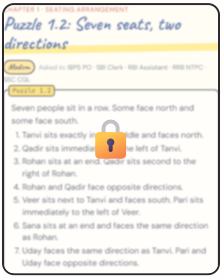

CHAPTER 1

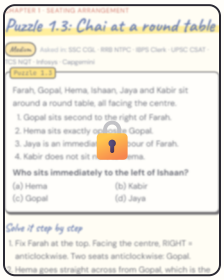

Sneak peek: the rest of this chapter

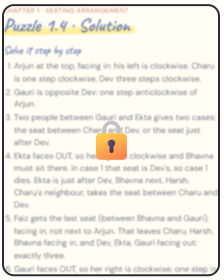

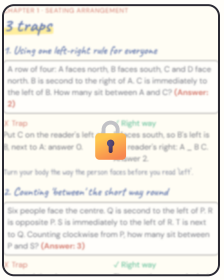

Inside the full book:

- The method, step by step
- How to draw every type
- 4 worked puzzles, easy to hard
- Dada's shortcuts and traps
- Practice sets + a boss puzzle
- Worked answers + cheat sheet

Liked the preview?

The complete book Reasoning Samjho has every reasoning topic asked in SSC, Banking, Railways, CSAT, CAT, CLAT, GATE and IT placement tests: worked puzzles from easy to hard, Dada's shortcuts, the traps, practice sets, mock tests and full answers.

Get the full book:

techsamjhoraj.com